

LARGE CLASS WAS CONFIRMED

Bishop Horstmann at St. Joseph's Church Thursday.

AT ST. MARY'S THIS EVENING.

Over Five Hundred Will be Confirmed by Bishop Horstmann During the Present Visit—Papal Blessing Bestowed.

The largest class in the history of St. Joseph's Catholic church was confirmed by Bishop Horstmann Thursday morning in the presence of a congregation that filled every seat in the spacious auditorium. Bishop Horstmann reached the city at 8:30 o'clock from Canton, where he had confirmed large classes Wednesday. He went at once to St. Joseph's rectory and was the guest of the Rev. Father Doherty, pastor.

The services were commenced at 9:30 o'clock and were not concluded until 12 o'clock. Mass was celebrated. The following took part: The Rev. Fathers Doherty, Vollmayer and Lillis, of Massillon; the Rev. Father Triebler, of Canton; the Rev. Father Kuebler, of Shelby Settlement, formerly pastor of St. Joseph's church; the Rev. Father Alten, of Navarre, and the Rev. Father Reuter, of West Brookfield. Mass was concluded and Bishop Horstmann began confirming the class at 10:30. At the conclusion of the confirmation, Bishop Horstmann gave a short sermon to the class, taking for his central theme "Christ Died for Me." He asked each member of the class to make a personal application of the text, and then outlined for the benefit of the boys and girls just confirmed the church's attitude toward several of the worldly institutions. He urged each member to withstand the temptations of the evil spirit and told the class that during the coming fifty years problems such as the world has never seen will have to be settled. Bishop Horstmann brought the services to a close by bestowing the papal benediction upon the congregation.

The class marched from the parochial school house to the church before the services, forming a procession that occupied the entire distance between the two structures. This was the first visit in several years of Bishop Horstmann to Massillon to confirm classes. During his present visit he will confirm about five hundred children.

Bishop Horstmann was the guest of Father Doherty during the afternoon. This evening a large class will be confirmed at St. Mary's church. The services will be commenced at 7 o'clock. Preparation has been in progress for months for the confirmation and those who had charge of the work have labored diligently to attain success.

No list of the members of the class to be confirmed at St. Mary's church could be obtained in advance of the services, as the complete number will not be known until the members approach the altar to be confirmed. They hand in their names to those stationed to receive them. The cards are taken in charge by the pastor and from them the church records are made.

Among those confirmed by Bishop Horstmann, at St. Joseph's church were the following:

William J. Holland, John P. Brady, John V. Hammersmith, Louis C. Brenkamp, Raymond T. Kern, Sylvanus J. Baatz, Oscar F. Sonnhalter, George H. Eckstein, Edward O. Powers, Owen E. Carver, Frank A. Straub, Helen Lustig, Florence Bittner, Frances Graybill, Elenora Schmader, Mary L. Rohr, Edna E. Krause, Laura Crookston, Louise A. Yast, Cecilia C. Oestlinger, Bertha M. Simon, Emeline C. Wernet, Mary J. Wilhelm, Theresa Josephino, Mary F. Wagner, Wilhelmina Weber, Ellanora Ess, Theresa Hagge, Clara Hentzel, Anna Frenz, Clara Rosche, E. C. Youngflesh, Carolina Rosche, Florence Lachamaier, Dorothy Miller, Florence Tabellion, Frances Post, Matilda Miller, Margaret Leonard, Gertrude Kahler, Mary Weitlich, Elizabeth L. Jordan.

The monthly meeting of the trustees of the Massillon state hospital was held at the institution Friday. Those present were President S. J. Mahon, J. B. Zerbe, J. S. Ellen and Dr. J. E. Russell. The morning was given to the transaction of routine business. Architect F. P. Packard, of Columbus, was present and went over some important work with the board and Superintendent Eymann. During the first part of the afternoon the board examined samples of clothing sent there for inspection, from which selections are to be made for state patients. The members returned to their homes in the evening.

The monthly report shows that there were 1,447 in the institution September 15. Twenty-four were admitted during the month; 17 were discharged as recovered, 8 as improved, 19 died, leaving 1,427 in the hospital October 15. Included in this number are 81 patients, who are on the visiting list. The greater number of those now visiting will return to the hospital before the holidays.

The Rev. S. K. Mahon, pastor of the Wesley M. E. church in Massillon, will conduct services in William McKinley hall at the hospital Sunday afternoon, taking the place of the Rev. H. W. Dewey. This will be the Rev. Mr. Mahon's last opportunity to speak at the hospital as pastor of the Wesley M. E. church, as he leaves for Mansfield next week. He speaks upon the request of many at the hospital.

The new cottage, which will be known as cottage No. 5, has been enclosed and the plastering has been finished. The interior woodwork is being completed and it is now thought that the rooms will be opened to patients by the end of the year.

A stone gutter has been built along the south side of the driveway leading to the office building.

Over a hundred bushels of green tomatoes were picked Friday and these will be made into pickles.

But another month remains in the fiscal year and all officers at the hospital are busy with their annual reports. All of the assistant physicians, who individually have been taking vacations for several weeks, are again at work.

The bowling alley has been put in condition for games and already the usual rivalry, which is intense during the winter, has shown itself.

CONFIRMATION AT ST. MARY'S.

Special Services Were Held Thursday Evening.

PAPAL BLESSING BESTOWED.

Over Two Hundred Young People Were in the Class, Which Marched from the School House to the Church.

Over two hundred were confirmed at St. Mary's church by Bishop Horstmann Thursday evening. The services began at 7:30 o'clock and long before that hour every seat was occupied. A short vespers service was held in conformity with the custom of the Catholic church. The following took part in the services: The Rev. Father Vollmayer and the Rev. Father Lillis, of St. Mary's church; the Rev. Father Doherty, of St. Joseph's church; the Rev. Father Alten, of Navarre; the Rev. Father Hossler, of Canal Fulton; the Rev. Father Treiber, of Canton; the Rev. Father Reuter, of West Brookfield. The Rev. J. F. Kuebler, of the Shelby Settlement parish, who assisted in the services in St. Joseph's church in the morning, was called home in the afternoon. He had expected to take part in the evening services.

The members of the confirmation class formed in line at the parochial school house and marched in double line to the church. After the class had been confirmed Bishop Horstmann gave a short address to the members, making clear to them the meaning of the solemn service and instructing them as to the import of the church's teaching. RECEPTION WAS WELL ATTENDED

Wesley M. E. Church Was Crowded Friday Night.

SEVERAL PASTORS SPOKE.

The Rev. S. K. Mahon Told of His Efforts in Establishing the Church—Farewell Sermon Sunday Evening.

Every seat in the Wesley M. E. church was occupied Friday evening by those desirous of showing their appreciation of the services during the past five years of the Rev. Stephen K. Mahon, who at a conference at Shelby last week was transferred to Mansfield. Mr. Mahon built the church in which the farewell reception was held and through his efforts has the present congregation been gathered together.

The reception lasted from 7 to 10 o'clock. Greetings and best wishes were given the Rev. and Mrs. Mahon until 8:30 o'clock, after which a programme of songs and addresses was carried out.

In the receiving line with the Rev. and Mrs. Mahon were: Mrs. J. E. English, Mrs. John Ritter, Mrs. Samuel Davis, L. C. Spidle, Charles Allman, Edward Davies and Malcolm Biddle, all officers in church societies. As soon as the guests had passed the receiving line they were ushered to the dining room in the basement, where ices and wafers were served. The young ladies of the church had charge of this part of the reception. The church and Sunday school rooms were decorated with cut flowers.

Miss Ada Evans and Miss Bessie Meek opened the programme with a vocal duet. This was followed with an address by the Rev. R. R. Bigger, of the Presbyterian church, who spoke in behalf of the Massillon Ministerial Association, of which the Rev. Mr. Mahon was a prominent member.

Mr. Bigger recalled many instances in which he and the Rev. Mr. Mahon had been associated and the friendly rivalry that had often characterized their efforts in christian work. He recalled the hard work done by Mr. Mahon and especially that which had been accomplished during the past two years, the time the Rev. Mr. Bigger has been in the city. He said in closing:

"I express the sorrow of the members of the Ministerial Association upon Mr. Mahon's leaving, but I rejoice in that he is going to a field of larger opportunities. He has labored well in this field, as you see by this building, which shall stand a monument to his efforts and ability. He leaves a splendid record. It was here that he began his ministerial work, and in years to come there will come many happy recollections of his work in this congregation."

The Rev. James Jones, of the United Brethren church, expressed sorrow for the people of the Wesley M. E. church, but recalled to their minds that the new pastor, who is soon to assume charge, comes with the highest qualifications to take up a work that has already been organized, and is in a working condition with the promise of unbounded expansion. "There are any number of lost souls today in Massillon," said Mr. Jones, "and there is plenty of work yet to do in the city to make it a thoroughly christian city. I am supervising the erection of a new church, but I want to say to Mr. Mahon and Mr. Foust, of the Reformed church, that I have not attempted to take one member from either congregation to build up a new one. I think they will agree with me in that. There is an abundance of work for us all. For my congregation, many of whose members are intimately acquainted with Mr. Mahon, I bespeak a happy and successful future in winning souls for Christ."

The Rev. O. P. Foust, pastor of the Reformed church, also on the west side, was the next speaker. He narrated the many struggles the Rev. Mr. Mahon had while gaining a foothold for a new congregation in that part of the city, and expressed his appreciation of the honorable efforts maintained to the last by the aspiring young pastor. "So many good and true things have been said of Mr. Mahon," said Mr. Foust, "all of which have found an echo in the hearts of all present, that I will let him off easy, as he requested."

"Methodism" was the subject assigned to the Rev. H. W. Dewey, pastor of the First M. E. church. He said that Methodism had found a true realization in its aims right in the meeting, and that the outpouring of people, those who were members of the congregation and others, was one of the best examples of the aims of Methodism that he could picture. He then described the reason for the establishment of the west side M. E. church and closed with a tribute to the work of the church and the strength of the congregation, which will continue to progress even after the Rev. Mr. Mahon relinquishes his grasp upon the church's affairs. "Some write a book to gain fame," said the Rev. Mr. Dewey, "others paint a beautiful landscape, some erect imposing monuments of stone to perpetuate an illustrious deed, but none of these is comparable to the building of a church home and organizing a church society, which has been done by him who has completed his work here and must now move on to fields of different labor."

The Rev. Mr. Mahon was on his feet to respond after the Rev. Mr. Dewey's address, but was detained long enough to stand with Mrs. Mahon before the congregation. Both were then presented with silk umbrellas, which were given by members of the congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Mahon then responded to the sentiments expressed during the evening and delivered one of his characteristic addresses, filled with wit and humor, pathos and christian advice. "In all seriousness," he said, "I want to thank all for what they have been pleased to say and do in the past. And before I forget I desire to say that there never was a minister in the world who had a more staunch congregation back of him in every effort. The members of this church deserve the commendation that you have seen fit to bestow upon my name tonight. There have been more failures than successes when one casts over the ambitions and dreams of five years ago. You know of some of these failures. But that is neither here nor there with the present situation. I must move on, and while there is regret upon leaving, there is some joy in the thought that a new and larger field has opened to my endeavors. A new church is to be built here, but I am not to have any laborious task in the building, as the financial part of the affair has already been amply cared for and a building committee will look after the work. The church will be one of the finest in Mansfield when completed, and will be located on a corner of the estate of the late John Sherman, in Park Avenue West, which in years gone by has been known among Mansfield people as 'the street of seal-skin saques.' I want you all to give as much earnest effort to the work of the Rev. Vernon Wade Wagar, who succeeds me, as you have to me, and when I shall come back on a visit I will see that my efforts here have not been in vain."

The meeting was brought to a formal close by the recitation of the Epworth League benediction. The Rev. Mr. Mahon will preach his farewell sermon Sunday evening and will leave next week for Mansfield.

COUNTY SEAT NEWS.

Entire Police Force Search for Greentown Doctor.

Canton, Oct. 21.—Every police officer in the city was searching for Dr. L. E. Dougherty, of Greentown, Friday night. When he left his home Thursday he had a large sum of money with him and came to Canton to make a deposit, but reached here after banking hours. He was last heard of in the west end, where he purchased some drugs for use in his practice, and it was thought by his friends that he had been held up and robbed and then waylaid. After a long search Friday night he was found in the west end, where he was visiting with friends.

The Canton police are rejoicing over the conviction of Caroline Studer, keeper of the Central hotel in this city, who was found guilty of enticing young girls away from their homes in Tuscarawas county. The penalty is from one to five years. Her reputation in Canton has always been bad.

While tearing down an old building opposite the Auditorium, in North Court street, a tin box containing about eighty-five dollars in gold and silver was found snugly hidden away. Who placed it there is a mystery.

Eastern Ohio Patents.

H. E. Dunlap, patent attorney, of Wheeling, W. Va., reports the following patents issued this week to inventors of Eastern Ohio: Augustus L. Moss, Sandusky, sanding device; George Loffi, Norwalk, trolley wheel; John D. Karnagain, Zanesville, radiator; Frank J. Creque, Cuyahoga Falls, shaft coupling, and Walter N. Clark, Warren, portable telephone. Trade marks were registered by Hampden Watch Company, Canton, for watches, and for watches and watch parts.

Over a hundred bushels of green tomatoes were picked Friday and these will be made into pickles.

But another month remains in the fiscal year and all officers at the hospital are busy with their annual reports. All of the assistant physicians, who individually have been taking vacations for several weeks, are again at work.

The bowling alley has been put in condition for games and already the usual rivalry, which is intense during the winter, has shown itself.

meeting, and that the outpouring of people, those who were members of the congregation and others, was one of the best examples of the aims of Methodism that he could picture. He then described the reason for the establishment of the west side M. E. church and closed with a tribute to the work of the church and the strength of the congregation, which will continue to progress even after the Rev. Mr. Mahon relinquishes his grasp upon the church's affairs. "Some write a book to gain fame," said the Rev. Mr. Dewey, "others paint a beautiful landscape, some erect imposing monuments of stone to perpetuate an illustrious deed, but none of these is comparable to the building of a church home and organizing a church society, which has been done by him who has completed his work here and must now move on to fields of different labor."

The Rev. Mr. Mahon was on his feet to respond after the Rev. Mr. Dewey's address, but was detained long enough to stand with Mrs. Mahon before the congregation. Both were then presented with silk umbrellas, which were given by members of the congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Mahon then responded to the sentiments expressed during the evening and delivered one of his characteristic addresses, filled with wit and humor, pathos and christian advice. "In all seriousness," he said, "I want to thank all for what they have been pleased to say and do in the past. And before I forget I desire to say that there never was a minister in the world who had a more staunch congregation back of him in every effort. The members of this church deserve the commendation that you have seen fit to bestow upon my name tonight. There have been more failures than successes when one casts over the ambitions and dreams of five years ago. You know of some of these failures. But that is neither here nor there with the present situation. I must move on, and while there is regret upon leaving, there is some joy in the thought that a new and larger field has opened to my endeavors. A new church is to be built here, but I am not to have any laborious task in the building, as the financial part of the affair has already been amply cared for and a building committee will look after the work. The church will be one of the finest in Mansfield when completed, and will be located on a corner of the estate of the late John Sherman, in Park Avenue West, which in years gone by has been known among Mansfield people as 'the street of seal-skin saques.' I want you all to give as much earnest effort to the work of the Rev. Vernon Wade Wagar, who succeeds me, as you have to me, and when I shall come back on a visit I will see that my efforts here have not been in vain."

The meeting was brought to a formal close by the recitation of the Epworth League benediction. The Rev. Mr. Mahon will preach his farewell sermon Sunday evening and will leave next week for Mansfield.

COUNTY SEAT NEWS.

Entire Police Force Search for Greentown Doctor.

Canton, Oct. 21.—Every police officer in the city was searching for Dr. L. E. Dougherty, of Greentown, Friday night. When he left his home Thursday he had a large sum of money with him and came to Canton to make a deposit, but reached here after banking hours. He was last heard of in the west end, where he purchased some drugs for use in his practice, and it was thought by his friends that he had been held up and robbed and then waylaid. After a long search Friday night he was found in the west end, where he was visiting with friends.

The Canton police are rejoicing over the conviction of Caroline Studer, keeper of the Central hotel in this city, who was found guilty of enticing young girls away from their homes in Tuscarawas county. The penalty is from one to five years. Her reputation in Canton has always been bad.

you who are familiar with it answer it? What do you find to say? You do not want to inflict a wound; you hunt ways to avoid that. What do you find? How do you get out of your hard place with a contented conscience? Do you try to explain? The old reply of mine to such a letter showed that I tried that once. Was I satisfied with the result? Possibly, and possibly not; probably not; almost certainly not. I have long ago forgotten all about it.

NEARBY TOWNS.

CRYSTAL SPRING.

Crystal Spring, Oct. 23.—Joseph Ehret and "Tiger" Schrontz, of Massillon, stopped in town Monday en route to Turkeyfoot lake.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Beitel, of Barberton, and Mr. and Mrs. John Mannweiler, of Massillon, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Haer.

E. J. Sprankel and Miss Edith Folts attended the district convention of the Dunkard church held at Mogadore last week.

A singing society was organized last Thursday night and it is likely that weekly meetings will take place in the school house. Edwin Kote was elected president, Miss Myrtle Smith secretary, and Miss Edith Folts treasurer.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kolodowsky, a son; to Mr. and Mrs. William E. Preece, a daughter.

Mrs. Mary Ries was agreeably surprised to see so many of her friends enter her home last Friday, all in one bunch, but it was soon explained that they had come to help celebrate her forty-ninth birthday anniversary, and a general good time was begun at once.

A large dinner and supper were served. The Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Digel, of Massillon, and the following people from Crystal Spring were present: Mr. and Mrs. William Washbaugh, sr., Mrs. Charles Gluting, Mrs. John Washbaugh, Mrs. Shad White, Mrs. Frank Gluting, Mrs. Christina Sheffer, Mrs. Charlotte Klein, Mrs. Zink, Mrs. L. W. Ruber, Mrs. Charlotte Haer, Mrs. Sarah Miesmer, Mrs. Young, Mrs. William Preece, Mrs. Henry Ries, and Mrs. Nora Krushinsky.

NORTH LAWRENCE.

North Lawrence, Oct. 23.—Mr. Durbler, who has charge of the repair work on the telephone lines, has moved his gang of men to Orrville, from which point he will work west.

The coal mines have been working full time the past week. No. 1 mine expects to finish up in about two weeks. The coal is all worked out.

The siding to the new mine, No. 19, will be finished in a short time. They will begin to ship coal immediately, as from three to four thousand tons of coal are on the ground. No. 19 mine expects to be one of the largest mines in the district.

Ezra Evans, who had his eye injured by a piece of flying steel, is still under a doctor's care.

Earl Dracy, of Canton, is spending a short time in town visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards.

The Brunner brothers, of East Greenville, received two car loads of cattle from South Dakota this week.

The coal train was off of the track three times this week. Twice the wreck train was called to put it on.

Louis Hippert, of this place, has opened a saloon in the building owned by Mrs. John Mossop. That makes four saloons in our town.

Services were held Sunday in the M. E. church. The Rev. E. Lawson had charge.

Albert Evans, of Pittsburg, spent Sunday in town with his parents and friends.

The Lawrence Dredging Company, of this place, which has the contract for opening the Fox lake ditch, has completed about half of the ditch and is still working.

A number of our people went to Massillon on Saturday to attend the football game.

Mrs. Esther Johnson, of Barberton, is spending a few days in town visiting her parents and friends.

Mrs. Mower, of Wooster, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Pearl Kaufman, of this place.

Dr. Lawrence was called last week to the home of William Riggle to see Mr. Kaylor, who was taken suddenly sick, but when the doctor arrived Mr. Kaylor was dead. He lived about twenty minutes after being taken sick.

F. C. Fulton loaded two cars of wheat for the Orrville Milling Company last week.

Robert Williams is on the sick list, having sprained his back while at work.

Mrs. Anna Pollock has gone to Dixon, Pa., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Shultz.

The Home Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. J. R. Shunk, Wednesday evening.

There was a small wreck west of town Friday, the 20th. The work train was driving piling, having the crane swung across No. 2 track, when an eastbound freight struck it and upset it, injuring two men.

The W. C. T. U. members have rented a room for the purpose of starting a reading room for the young boys of our town. It will be supplied with plenty of good reading material, and we hope the young boys will take advantage of this opportunity instead of loitering around on the street corners.

TWENTY-TWO TO NOTHING

Shelby's Team Was Composed of Stars.

ALL ALIKE TO THE TIGERS

The Mighty Kerchoffe Has to Retire, and Stewart Suffers a Dislocated Knee—Massillon's Goal Never in Danger, and the Tigers Have a Walkaway in the Second Half.

The score of 22-0 which the Tigers rolled up against Shelby Saturday afternoon on the Massillon base ball park grounds, does not indicate by a long ways the fierceness of the contest nor the desperate work of both teams. Over one thousand people saw the game, despite the aggravating accommodations furnished by the Canton-Akron street railway, and after finally reaching the grounds, yelled themselves hoarse during the forty minutes of actual play at the great work of both teams. As a matter of fact the game was one of the most brilliant ever played here. Shelby's expectation of winning was shattered in the first seven minutes of play, although the touchdown was not forthcoming until after the most desperate line plunging and trick playing.

Two players were incapacitated for a time at least, Kerchoffe having his ankle sprained just at the close of the first half and Stewart having the ligaments of his left knee torn. McFarland and Hayden replaced these players and played great games. The accident to Stewart happened five minutes after play began, and he retired after the first touchdown had been made.

The game was the most satisfactory from the point of view of the captain and coach of any which has yet been played. Shelby had an aggregation of stars to pit against the Tigers which they had planned would upset all championship aspirations here, but after the Tigers got down to work in that second half, after they had been forced to realize that they were up against the stiffest proposition of the year, then it did the hearts of the fans good to watch the players who have been chosen to uphold the state championship claim here this year. Shelby's line was literally torn to pieces. Long gains were made on tackle over backs until the comparatively poor condition of the Shelby players began to tell, and then the local backs sifted through almost any place. Shelby's players became exhausted by the terrific pace, but the training which the Tigers have been put through for the last week told and three touchdowns resulted in the second half. The way in which the Tigers swept their equally heavy opponents off their feet was greeted with wild yells from the now thoroughly excited spectators. Time after time McFarland was called back in this half and crashed into the right side of the line for long gains, hurdling, plunging and ducking in great fashion. McNulty was equally as brilliant in advancing the ball, and his line smashing was a feature of the game. Back of the line Riley, Moran, J. Nesser and Tex Mathews worked like fiends, and on one occasion Moran electrified the crowd by picking Mathews up as he hurdled a pile of players and literally carrying him down the field for ten yards.

At center "Bob" Shuring outplayed his opponent and often shoved him back with such force as to break up the play entirely. "Big" Frank Botoner, pitted against Bitner, Akron's star guard, played the game of his life, and when an opening was needed Frank was always to be counted on.

"Ted" Nesser, at Botoner's side, played in fine form. His tackle plays were features of the game from start to finish, and in the last half, with the aid of Botoner and McChesney, he opened up such a hole that Moran shot through and went twenty-five yards for the last touchdown.

"Kerky" was up against "Bull" McManus, probably the best player on the Shelby line, and handled his man in a satisfactory manner, while McFarland, who replaced Kerchoffe, had equally as much success.

It remained for Clark Schrontz to star during the entire game, and the acting captain, in the absence of Captain Wittmann and Coach Stewart, handled the team in first class shape. Schrontz was down the field like lightning when Massillon was forced to punt, and his man never once got away from him.

Although handicapped by a wrenched knee, Merriam played a great game and plays directed at his side of the line were never successful. "Doc" McChesney was greeted with applause when he replaced Merriam during the second half, and made good in great shape as an end man, making probably the most brilliant tackle of the whole game.

Jack Hayden was introduced to a Massillon audience and made good with a vengeance. He was handicapped slightly by unfamiliarity with the signals, but in the second half showed that he is a true general and good quarterback.

It was back of the line where the most brilliant work was done. Riley made one of his long sensational runs, but was called back by the visiting umpire for offside play. His work all through the game, however, was brilliant. Moran showed that he is a veritable demon at line smashing and the fans went wild over some of his great work. J. Nesser was always to be counted on and in interfering and line smashing he is a great player. Tex Mathews, who supplanted Nesser at the end of the first half, showed to great advantage and won the hearts of the local fans by some of his great line hurdling and plunging plays.

Captain Wittmann won the toss and chose to defend the south goal, but a delay of ten minutes was occasioned by a discussion over the length of the halves, Captain Wittmann finally conceding Shelby's claims, owing to a tacit understanding between Manager Wise and Managers Shiffer and Ward of the Shelby team.

Moran picked up the ball on the kickoff and got back twenty yards before being downed, and then the hammering began. By steady line plunging and a few trick and end plays the ball was worked to Shelby's fifteen yard line. "Ted" Nesser smashed through the opposing line for ten yards but dropped the ball and Shelby had an opportunity of showing her strength, and the fans were surprised to see the visitors start up the field. Shelby's hopes were short lived however, as Massillon's line held like a stone wall and Bushey punted forty yards, the ball rolling out of bounds at Massillon's fifty yard line. A series of straight bucks and cross bucks took the ball to the five yard line, and it was carried over at the extreme northeast corner by Moran after seven minutes of play. Moran punted in after the touchdown, but Shelby blocked the free kick, and the score stood 5-0 in favor of the Tigers.

Hayden replaced Stewart at this time, the latter player being unable to run on his injured leg. Hayden got back fifteen yards with the ball and then began a series of exchanges of punts which thrilled the spectators. Shelby was able to hold the Tigers for downs and forced them to punt often, and it was seen that Shelby was in a way making good her declaration of holding the Tigers to a low score if not winning. The first half ended with the score 5-0.

SECOND HALF.

In the second half McFarland took Kerchoffe's place at left guard, the big Westerner having injured his ankle, and Mathews went to left half in J. Nesser's place. The team started rather slow, but in five minutes of hard work the pace began to tell on the visitors and once on the run the Tigers never let up, giving the Shelby players heart disease with their terrific work, and throughout the rest of the game it was but a procession with the Shelby players dying hard and hanging on as well as they could in their exhausted condition.

The great sport of the Tigers towards the close of the game was a great source of satisfaction to the fans, who had begun to fear that the game might end 5-0 as the time flew past in the second half. Riley was finally forced over the goal line for the second touchdown and Schrontz kicked goal.

The third touchdown came easily. McFarland was largely responsible for the big gains which brought this score, and McNulty was finally pushed over and Schrontz kicked goal.

The fourth touchdown was almost a fluke, although it furnished the most excitement of the game. After bringing the ball rapidly up the field, Mathews was called on for a straight line buck. He misunderstood the signal and started for the left side of the line. Like a flash Moran grasped the situation and taking the ball started for the right place. He encountered no opposition and when he burst through the hole he crossed the goal line before he could be downed. His attempt at punt out failed and the final score stood 22-0. A NEW UNION DEPOT.

Roads Will Build One in Chicago Costing $25,000,000.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The five railroads using the Union station on Canal street, are considering a plan of enlargement of passenger terminals there and the construction of a new station at a total cost of about $25,000,000. The plans have not been sufficiently matured to permit of a definite announcement. In a general way it is stated that the plans now comprehend the utilization of the terminal facilities of the Chicago Transfer Railway Company.

It is stated, but denied by Baltimore & Ohio officials, that the Baltimore & Ohio has acquired the Terminal property. The Baltimore & Ohio is owned by the Pennsylvania, and the four roads, which are now tenants of the Pennsylvania, have already agreed to purchase a one-fifth interest in the property and to stand one-fifth of the expense of constructing a new station.

The System Lives On Good Rich Blood.

People Who Lack the Proper Quantity and Quality of Blood Fall Victims to Every Disease That's Prevalent.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS

The blood is the medium through which every tissue, every organ is supplied with the material it needs upon and rebuilds itself with. Take away that nourishment by letting the blood run down in quantity and quality and you take away the power of an organ or tissue to supply waste or rebuild itself. In other words, the system starves; color, appetite, steadiness, energy, vigor, vitality—all are lost and a condition of mental and physical prostration sets in. This condition Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills positively cure by their power to manufacture good, rich, nutritious, oxygen carrying blood, a blood that carries to every organ the very material it lives and thrives upon.

Mr. George Hopkins of Westinghouse Avenue, Wilmerding, Pa., says:

"I began to use Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills in Pittsburgh. I was at the time badly run down, weak—nervous—could not eat—cold all the time, as my blood was thin, and did not sleep well. The medicine put me in splendid shape rapidly and easily, giving me steady nerves—a fine appetite—restful sleep—a general feeling of energy and vigor and good rich blood that showed in the way my color came back. The medicine is certainly a grand one and I am only too glad to say so. 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. Portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., on every package. For sale by E. S. Craig, Druggist, Massillon, O."

CANTON DEFEATS DAYTON.

Great Score Piled Up Against a Weak Team.

Canton, Oct. 21.—In the football game here today the local team defeated the Dayton Athletic Club by a score of 107 to 0. The visitors were entirely outclassed in all respects, and the result of the game gives the backers of the Canton team but little line on future games with strong teams. Local sports who witnessed the game between the Massillon Tigers and the Shelby team this afternoon, returned home with the warning that the Cantons will have the work of their lives to defeat the team from Richland county.

A UNIQUE RECORD.

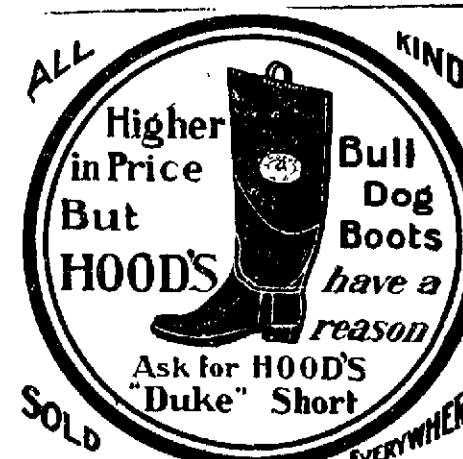

Not Another Like it in Our Broad Republic.

To give positive home testimony in every locality is of itself an arduous proof of merit; but when we add to this the continued endorsement from people who testified years ago no evidence can be stronger. A Massillon citizen gratefully acknowledges the good received from Doan's Kidney Pills, and when time has tested the cure we find the same hearty endorsement, with added enthusiasm and continued praise. Cases of this kind are plentiful in the work of Doan's Kidney Pills, and such a record is unique in the annals of medicine.

Louis Feil, clerk at Bechtel & Taggart's grocery, living at 220 Akron street, says: "In May, 1900, when I was living at 86 Cliff street, I told the people of Massillon through our newspapers that Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of attacks of aching across the loins which at times were severe enough to make me cry out and of other annoyances incidental to kidney trouble. It is now over four years since I made that statement and during that time there have been no recurrences. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills repeatedly to friends and acquaintances."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

HIS MOTHER'S HOME

Visited by President Roosevelt at Roswell, Ga., During Southern Tour.

GREAT RECEPTION AT ATLANTA

Chief Executive Makes Address Dealing With Regulation of Great Corporations—Dishonest Men Should Receive Public Condemnation.

Roswell, Ga., Oct. 21.—President Roosevelt carried out his long cherished plan of visiting the home of his mother—Roswell, Ga. One of his reasons for coming south was that he might see the old homestead where his mother spent her girlhood and which she left a happy bride. That the visit was fraught with many tender recollections was evident, and as his carriage drove away from the old Bulloch mansion where his mother lived and married, the president said to Mrs. Roosevelt, "I can hardly bear to leave here."

The president reached Roswell at 7:30 a. m. and was joined here by Senator and Mrs. Clay, who were his guests at breakfast. He then was driven to the mansion. This fine old homestead is now the property of J. D. Wing, a lumber merchant of this section, who lives in it with his sister, Mrs. Wood, the postmaster of Roswell.

Here he was greeted by two old servants who lived on the place during his mother's young womanhood. One of these is "Aunt Grace," who acted as maid to Mrs. Martha Bulloch, who afterward became Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, and the other is William Jackson, who decorated the mansion on the occasion of the marriage of its young mistress.

Shakes Hands With Old Servants.
The president was deeply touched as he shook the hands of these old servants. In company with Mrs. Roosevelt he then inspected the house, calling to the attention of the company many incidents connected with his mother's childhood. Before leaving the mansion he posed with Mrs. Roosevelt for a picture, which included "Aunt Grace" and "Daddy William."

From the homestead the president was driven to the town park, where a stand had been erected from which he delivered an address.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 21.—The president's visit to Atlanta was a marked event in the history of the state of Georgia. He was greeted on his arrival by its most distinguished citizens and through the day on every hand were shouted words of welcome that left no room for doubt of their sincerity. The city was in gala attire and business was practically suspended. South Carolina, through Governor Heyward, added its welcome. Threatening clouds marked the early morning, but no rain fell. A chilling wind prevailed all day.

Numerous extra trains brought their burden of Georgians from surrounding country and cities, and it was estimated that not less than 100,000 persons saw and welcomed the president.

Corporations Need Regulation.
In his address the president touched on cotton and its connection with the Chinese boycott. He promised to do all in his power to overcome the latter. Speaking on the trust question he said:

Undoubtedly there is need of regulation by the government of great corporations which have shown themselves to be the most efficient business implements, and which are, therefore, the implements commonly employed by the owners of large fortunes.

The corporation is the creature of the state. It should always be held accountable to some sovereign, and this accountability should be real and not sham. Therefore, in my judgment, all corporations doing an interstate business, and this means the great majority of the largest corporations, should be held accountable to the federal government, because their accountability should be coextensive with their field of action.

But most certainly we should not strive to prevent or limit corporate activity. We should strive to secure such effective supervision over it as to guarantee that its activity will be exercised only in ways beneficial to the public.

Congress Went Too Far.
The wisdom of any effort to check corporate activity has been shown in striking fashion in recent years by our experience in the Philippines and in Porto Rico. Our national legislators very properly determined that the islands should not be exploited by the interests of the people of the islands themselves. But unfortunately in their zeal to prevent the islands from being improperly exploited they took measures of such severity as to seriously, and in some respects vitally, to hamper and retard the development of the islands.

There is nothing that the islands need more than to have their great natural resources developed, and these resources can be developed only by the abundant use of capital, which, of course, will not be put into them unless on terms sufficiently advantageous to offer prospects of good remuneration. We have made the terms not merely hard, but often prohibitory, with the result that American capital has been driven into foreign countries, like Mexico, and is there used with immense advantage to the country in its development, while it can not go into our own possessions or be used to develop the lands under our own flag.

The conscience of our people has been deeply shocked by the revelations made of recent years as to the way in which some of the great fortunes have been obtained and used, and there is, I think, in the minds of the people at large a strong feeling that a serious effort must be made to put a stop to the cynical dishonesty and contempt for right which have thus been revealed. I believe that something can be done by law to remedy the state of things complained of. But when all that can be, has thus been done, there will yet remain much which the law can not touch, and which must be reached by the force of public opinion.

There are men who do not divide actions merely into those that are honest and those that are not, but create a third subdivision—that of law honesty; of that kind of honesty which consists in keeping clear of the penitentiary. It is hard to reach astute men of this type save by making them feel the weight of an honest public indignation. But this indignation, if it is to be effective, must be intelligent. It is, of course, to the great advantage of dishonest men of wealth if they are denounced, not for being dishonest, but for being wealthy, and if they are denounced in terms so overstrained and hysterical as to invite a reaction in their favor.

Wealth Makes No Difference.
We cannot afford in this country to draw the distinction as between rich man and poor man. The distinction upon which we must insist is the vital, deep-going, unchangeable distinction between the honest man and the dishonest man, between the man who acts decently and fairly by his neighbor and with a quick sense of his obligations, and the man who acknowledges no internal law save that of his own will and appetite. Above all we should treat with a peculiarly contemptuous abhorrence the man who in a spirit of sheer cynicism debauches either our business life or our political life.

There are men who use the phrase "practical politics" as merely a euphemism for dirty politics, and it is such men who have brought the word "politics" into discredit. There are other men who use the noxious phrase "business is business," as an excuse and justification for every kind of mean and crooked work; and these men make honest Americans hang their heads because of some of the things they do.

Trickery Should Be Rebuked.
It is the duty of every honest patriot to rebuke in emphatic fashion alike the politician who does not understand that the only kind of "practical politics" which a nation can with safety tolerate is that kind which we know as clean politics, and that we are as severe in our condemnation of the business trickery which succeeds as of the business trickery which fails. The scoundrel who falls can never by any possibility be as dangerous to the community as the scoundrel who succeeds; and of all the men in the country, the worst citizens those who should excite in our minds the most contemptuous abhorrence, are the men who have achieved great wealth, or any other form of success, in any save a clean and straightforward manner.

IRVING'S ASHES BURIED.

English Speaking People Pay Last
Tribute at Westminster.

London, Oct. 21.—Beside that other great actor, Garrick, and under the shadow of the statue of Shakespeare, as the interpreter of whose plays he won fame, the ashes of Sir Henry Irving were given burial in Westminster Abbey, thus being accorded England's greatest tribute to the dead.

King Edward was represented at the services by General Sir Dighton Probyn, keeper of the privy purse, and the Prince of Wales was represented by Lieutenant Colonel William H. P. Carrington, comptroller of the prince's household, while the cabinet ministers and ambassadors attended in person. Whitelaw Reid, who is visiting in Scotland, coming to London purposely to testify America's regard for the dead tragedian.

The only mourners were Lady Irving and the sons of Sir Henry Irving. Of the mass of floral pieces sent by friends and admirers of Irving but four had places during the service. One of these was a cross of lilies from Queen Alexandra bearing the words: "To Sir Henry Irving from the Queen—Into Thy Hands, O Lord; Into Thy Hands."

Man Lives Off Girl's Stealings.

New York, Oct. 21.—To supply money to a man with whom she was intimate, May E. Golding of Buffalo, cashier of the New York branch of the Larkin company of Buffalo, states in a written confession in court that she had been stealing from her employers for over two years. Her confession admitted thefts to the amount of at least $2,000, but her manager testified that he believed the amount stolen was about $8,000.

Standard Boosts Price of Oil.

Lima, O., Oct. 21.—The Standard Oil company has posted a bulletin announcing an advance of 5 cents in the price of Pennsylvania crude oil and a decrease of 2 cents on Lima and Indiana oil. Pennsylvania, $1.01; North Indiana, 90c.

Worked With Carnegie in 1843.

Gallatin, Tenn., Oct. 21.—Martin Barth is dead here. Mr. Barth in 1843 was a messenger of the old Atlantic and Ohio Telegraph company at Pittsburgh, where Andrew Carnegie was on his first employment as a messenger boy.

Togo Sails in New Flagship.

Yokohama, Oct. 21.—Admiral Togo sailed here on his new flagship, the battleship Sakishima. Forty warships were now assembled here in preparation for the great naval review of Oct. 22.

LATTER BETRAYED BY FRIEND

Former Acquaintance of Fugitive
Meets Him in Barroom and Obtains
$2,500 Reward—Proceeds to Spend
It in Red Light District.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 21.—The chances that the police will recover nearly the whole of the $101,000 stolen from the Adams Express company in Pittsburg by Edward G. Cunliffe, who was arrested here and taken to Pittsburg, seem bright. Last night $9,085 was found in a trunk belonging to a butler in a prominent family at Black Rock, but the butler and the family by whom he is employed are ignorant of the fact the large sum found was within the house. Although there is a possibility that the remaining $10,500 has been destroyed, the police are of the opinion that another accomplice of Cunliffe may reveal the hiding place of the missing sum. In round numbers $90,000 has been found within the past 24 hours. After figuring on about $500 as the amount which Cunliffe has spent or which was found on him when arrested there is left a sum of $10,500 yet to be accounted for.

The discovery of the money in the Black Rock home was brought about by keeping a close watch on one of Cunliffe's chance acquaintances, George Eiseman, who was with Cunliffe when he was arrested. According to Eiseman's story, he met Cunliffe in a cheap hotel, the two being together for some time. Cunliffe had a package with him and as the men were about to leave each other Cunliffe said that he wanted Eiseman to take care of the package, as it was laundry which he wanted to keep in a safe place. Eiseman took the bundle to his sister's house, 688 Nash street, and when alone opened it and found the big sum of money.

Tried to Bribe Police Captain.

Captain Arnold of the detective bureau, who knows Eiseman and who saw him with Cunliffe when the latter was taken, went to the home of Eiseman's sister and found the bundle of shirts, but no money, and he suspected that Eiseman had abstracted a part of Cunliffe's plunder. Eiseman was shadowed and he was seen to give a small package to his friend the butler. Last night Eiseman was taken to the Black Rock house and asked the butler for the package. He went to his trunk and turned it over to Captain Arnold intact. The butler had not been told what was in the package. Captain Arnold would not reveal the name of the butler or the family which employed him. Eiseman was taken to police headquarters, but was released later.

Two other features of the chapter of events in connection with the capture of Cunliffe cropped out last night, one being an attempt by Cunliffe to bribe Captain George Arnold of the local detective force, and the other being the story of betrayal by a friend of Cunliffe for the purpose of securing the reward of $2,500 offered by the Pinkertons for his arrest. During one of the talks which Captain Arnold had with Cunliffe the prisoner made a proposition to divide the $2,500 which he had sent to his brother-in-law, Joseph W. Boardman, in Bristol on the promise of secrecy. Arnold was to have received $10,000 if the scheme was carried out according to the plans of the prisoner, who was to tell the Pittsburg authorities that the hiding place of the money would never be known.

Betrayed by a Friend.

The betrayal of Cunliffe by his friend, James Missett, is interesting. Missett formerly lived in Bristol and knew Cunliffe well. They had been together a good deal when Cunliffe lived in Bristol and Hartford, and at the present time Missett is employed by one of the cheap hotels in the section of the city in which Cunliffe was captured. Last Tuesday Missett went in the Tremont hotel barroom and saw Cunliffe standing at the bar. Missett went up to him and said: "Hello, Cunliffe, what are you doing here?"

Cunliffe turned around and pretended not to know Missett, who was sure of his man. Missett then said: "Why, you know me; I'm Missett. You used to play policy with me in Bristol." Cunliffe denied that he had ever seen Missett. Missett then left the barroom in a hurry, and when outside inquired the amount of the reward offered for the capture of Cunliffe. The next morning Missett went to New York and on reaching there visited the Pinkerton agency in Broadway.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I know where Cunliffe is and I want to know what reward is offered for him." He was told $2,500.

The Pinkerton people thought at first that Missett was a crank, but he assured them that he was in earnest and said that if the Pinkertons would give him a written agreement that he would get the reward if he told them where the missing man could be found he would do so. This was agreed to and Missett told them. The arrest of Cunliffe followed. Last night Missett returned from New York with the $2,500 reward and proceeded to spend it lavishly throughout the lower part of the city.

Engineer on P. R. R. Badly Injured at Allegrippus.

Altoona, Pa., Oct. 21.—Nine cars of an eastbound coal train, wrecked by a broken wheel at Allegrippus, nine miles west of here, toppled against the side of the westbound express over the Pennsylvania railroad, tearing the cars from the second and third engines and the corners out of the first coaches.

All the passengers escaped uninjured. Two trainmen were hurt. Engineer H. J. Highberger of Pittsford had his right leg crushed and may die. Engineer Benjamin Kinkade of Altoona was slightly injured. The firemen of the two damaged engines were shoveling coal at the time and were uninjured.

CHARGES BY CASTLE

Prohibition Candidate Alleges
Penrose Was Borrower
From Closed Bank.

BLAMES TROUBLE ON POLITICS

In Speech at Milton, Pa., Last Night
Pittsburg Attorney Makes Strong
Allegations Against Leading Politician—Denial by Senator Penrose.

Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—A special to the Record from Milton, Pa., says that Homer L. Castle, prohibition candidate for superior court judge, addressed a large audience in the opera house there last night. With regard to the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny, Mr. Castle is quoted as follows:

"As showing that State Treasurer Mathews knew of the conditions in Pittsburg, you only need to remember that one day before the bank broke he sent $50,000, which could have been for no other purpose than to bolster up the tottering financial concern. You have only to be told that there is a note in that bank, or at least there was a few weeks ago, for $75,000, made by John I. Shaw to the order of Boies Penrose, and discounted probably without the knowledge of the bank directors.

Charges Failure to Politics.

"You have only to remember that the testimony of officers of the bank is to the effect that Mr. Clark was discounting the paper of such politicians as Andrews, Torrance, Kennedy and others without the knowledge of the bank directors, to comprehend that these men have entered into a criminal conspiracy for which they ought to answer at some bar of justice. You need only to be told that in the case of another bank of Allegheny holding a loan of $65,000 on the strength of $100,000 deposits of state funds, where the collateral was the air line to nowhere stock, that when the officials of that bank, knowing that the securities were insufficient, asked to have the note taken up, after a bank examiner had turned it down, for the reason that it had no ascertainable value; that Mr. McFee, now secretary of the commonwealth practically forced the bank to keep this loan on the pain of instant withdrawal of the entire deposit.

"You need only to know that the Treasury Trust company of the city of Pittsburg, between Jan. 15 and Feb. 1 of this year, received a deposit from the state in the sum of $25,000, which was followed in two days by two notes of $2,500 each, made by W. H. Andrews and endorsed by Francis Torrance, T. Lee Clark, the devil cashier, and F. R. Nichols, who is the private secretary for 'Bull' Andrews. The proceeds of these notes were carried away by Nichols, James E. Glass, treasurer of the company, said to an officer: 'We can get more money if we make more loans.'

Penrose Makes Strong Denial.

"When you have all this placed together it is not hard to understand and know what relationship exists between the Enterprise bank and the gang of men who are running this dishonest administration of state finances." Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—United States Senator Boies Penrose last night denied emphatically the rumors connecting him with loans from the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny. Senator Penrose's statement follows:

"I have no obligations of any kind in the Enterprise National bank. I am not connected in any way, directly or indirectly, with notes of W. H. Andrews, if there are any such in the Enterprise National bank. I have no interest whatever in the Pennsylvania Development company, or with any other project in New Mexico. Any intimations to the contrary are malicious falsehoods for political effect."

MRS. INGERICK CAN GIVE

NO CLUE TO MURDERER.

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Mrs. Martin Ingerick, the only survivor of the tragedy at the Olney farm two weeks ago, has sufficiently recovered from the injuries she sustained at that time to be informed of the death of her daughter Alice and the two Olney brothers. She became hysterical, but when calmed reiterated her previous statements that she had no recollection of anything in connection with the crime. Search is still being kept up for Charles M. Rogers, who disappeared from here the day after the tragedy.

MANY VESSELS LOST

Furious Storm Sweeps Great Lakes and Lives and Property Are Destroyed.

MANY REPORTS OF DISASTER

From Buffalo to Duluth News Is Received of Shipwreck and Loss of Life—Several Vessels Ashore in Vicinity of Cleveland.

Cleveland, Oct. 21.—As a result of the wildest storm that has swept Lake Erie in years wrecks strew the shore from Buffalo to Detroit. The storm came with abrupt suddenness at an early hour in the morning and continued without interruption throughout the day. At midnight the wind velocity, which reached 54 miles an hour at its highest point, had decreased little. The known losses include the following:

The barge Minnedosa of Kingston, Ont., has been lost in Saginaw bay with seven men, including Captain Phillips and wife.

Freighter E. Sheldon, beached near Lorain.

Steamer Wisconsin on rocks off Lorain.

Schooner Kingfisher beaten to pieces off Cleveland.

Steamer F. A. Prince damaged near Cleveland.

Tug Walter Metcalf sunk off break water light, Cleveland.

Several barges sunk off Buffalo harbor.

Steamer Prinkell reaches Buffalo badly damaged.

Barge Yukon sunk off Ashtabula harbor; crew rescued.

Buffeted by Terrific Gale.

Two of the crew of the Sheldon were lost off Lorain. The wreck of this vessel was the most serious of any reported thus far. The Sheldon left Cleveland with a cargo of coal Thursday night and was bound up the lake. Her troubles began in getting out of the harbor and from then on until she was beached at Lorain she was almost continuously at the mercy of the tempest. After running ashore she was buffeted and pounded for over seven hours.

Two tugs from Cleveland, one of which bore the life saving crew of this port, succeeded in rescuing all but two of the crew. These two attempted to escape in a small lifeboat and were quickly swept out to sea and lost. The drowned men were John Fox, wheelman, and Charles Evans, second mate. The vessel is a complete wreck.

Big Steamer Wisconsin Ashore.

The big steamer Wisconsin was also a victim of the storm off Lorain. She left Lorain for Toledo at 2:30 a. m. and was struck by the gale, which blew her head on upon the rocks outside the breakwater. She can probably be released when the sea dies down.

The big passenger steamer City of Erie from Buffalo arrived two hours late. She had a heavy list and had great difficulty in entering the harbor. The boat's officers report that the gale encountered all the way from Buffalo was terrific. The Erie did not leave on her return trip, word having been received from Buffalo that the City of Buffalo, sister ship of the Erie, was tied up at that port on account of being unable to unload freight because of the storm.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Speculative tactics controlled the wheat market here today, support from a leading bull causing a strong finish. At the close wheat for December delivery was up 3/4c. DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

Summary of Business Conditions
Throughout the Country.

New York, Oct. 21.—Dun's weekly review of trade says today: Activity broadens in commercial channels and confidence expands because of the many evidences of conservatism. Business is brisk and improving, although there is no disposition to start a boom. Manufacturers receive liberal orders for remote deliveries, many dealers having covered spring requirements, and shipping departments are forwarding as freely as traffic facilities will permit. Current retail trade is not equalling expectations, but this is attributed to mild autumn weather, and preparations for the future are undiminished.

Especially good news is received from the iron and steel centers, output of mills and furnaces increasing without relieving the pressure for quick delivery, particularly in structural and railway departments. Wages were voluntarily increased at print cloth mills and scarcely any labor disputes are noted. Much complaint is heard regarding freight blockades, several contracts being accepted subject to delay in transit, which is seriously retarding grain exports.

Statistics of foreign trade for the United States eclipsed all September records last month, which was particularly gratifying in view of the fact that a loss of over $11,000,000 in exports of cotton had to be made up elsewhere. Another splendid exhibit is assured for October, the last week alone at this port providing gains of $3,967,901 in imports and $2,120,803 in exports as compared with last year's figures.

NEW USE OF TELEPHONE.

Farmer's Wife Calls Neighbors for Chase of Mr. Bruin.

Altoona, Pa., Oct. 21.—A rural telephone line touching the village of Little Hickory, near Riddlesburg, Pa., was put to an unique use. The wife of a farmer whose field runs back to a long stretch of woods saw a black bear shamble out into the orchard and begin to fill up on apples. The subscriber to the telephone have an arrangement by which a continuous ring in case of necessity will bring all of them to the phone. The woman gave the long ring. Then called: "There's a big black bear in Bailey's woods."

That was enough. Inside of 20 minutes 15 men were armed with rifles and guns and heading for Bailey's woods. There is a public school a quarter of a mile from the Bailey woods. The teacher heard of the big game, dismissed the school, grabbed his gun and joined in the round up. John Taggart brought bruin down. Twenty-two men claimed a slice of the carcass, which weighed 347 pounds.

TRACED BY FOOTPRINTS.

Chicago Woman Accused of Assassinating Her Rival.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—That a woman assassin killed Mrs. Clara McKuskey, who was shot at the rear door of Mrs. McKuskey's saloon, is accepted as a fact by the police.

Mrs. May Buckley was arrested charged with the crime. She was formerly a partner of Mrs. McKuskey in the saloon business.

In the alley at the rear of the saloon, and extending four blocks west, are two sets of footprints. They show imprints of a woman's shoes. One line of these footprints extends toward the rear of the saloon and the other points in the opposite direction. It was charged that Mrs. Buckley and the murdered woman frequently quarreled over a man.

Pittsburgh Found Murdered.

Salisbury, N. C., Oct. 21.—The body of J. C. Baird, a white man apparently about 10 years old, of Bellevue, Pa., was found in the outskirts of Salisbury. It is thought he was murdered, a huge club with which the right side of his face had been mashed into a pulp being found near the body. Officers believe they have a clue to the perpetrator, whose motive evidently was robbery.

Kerosene Decimates Family.

Bladen, N.C., Oct. 21.—Two children of Fred Hiel, age 10 and 4 years, were burned to death and their mother, Mrs. Fred Hiel, so badly burned that she cannot recover, in a fire which destroyed their home here. The eldest daughter was pouring kerosene on a fire in the kitchen stove when the can exploded, setting fire to the house.

Shaw Makes Ohio Dates.

Columbus, O., Oct. 21.—Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, will speak at Portsmouth on Oct. 27, at Youngstown on Oct. 28 and at Cleveland on Nov. 4. He will address night meetings in each of these cities. The state committee is also endeavoring to arrange for Mr. Shaw to speak in Columbus on Nov. 2.

Old-Time Minstrel Dead.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 21.—"Cool" Burgess, the well-known minstrel, died in the general hospital here of a complication of diseases.

In the History Class.

"Who set fire to the temple of Diana at Ephesus?" asked the teacher, looking sharply at the boy.

"I—I don't know, ma'am," answered the frightened urchin. "As true as I'm settin' here, I didn't have nothin' to do with it."

Making a life is larger than making a living. Many a man has made a good living who has made a poor life.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Discovered this Week by Independent Investigators.

J. S. Cooley, of Mt. Vernon, spent Saturday in the city and visited the stone quarry formerly owned by him.

Jacob Conold, a Dalton saloonkeeper, was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Sanderson on a charge of selling liquor to the sons of J. W. Johnson.

Miss Ruth White, of Peabody, Kas., and Miss Leah Kennedy, of Medina, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Clark, No. 107 North street.

Mrs. Harvey Hardgrove, a well known resident of Canal Fulton, sustained a stroke of paralysis Friday morning and is in a critical condition.

Miss Anna Myers, who has been living with Mr. and Mrs. Dennison Doll, in South Erie street, will leave for Akron Sunday to work in a rubber factory.

For the first time since the smallpox epidemic broke out in Ohio in 1898 all the cases now known are confined to one county, Hamilton, and there are only three of them.

Mr. and Mrs. David George, who moved to St. Clairsville a few months ago, have decided to again move to Massillon. Mr. George was formerly a B & O car inspector.

Mrs. A. Linn received word Friday of the serious illness of Mr. Linn, a glassblower, at Coshocton, and left immediately for that city. Mr. Linn is suffering from appendicitis.

Clement Hoyman and Miss Minnie Kittinger, of East Greenville, were married by the Rev. W. S. Adams, at Stanwood, Thursday evening. The newly married pair will live at East Greenville.

Mrs. Harry Waite, accompanied by the four children of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Jones, left for Newark Friday, where they will make their home. Mr. Waite is superintendent of a glass factory at Newark.

The Stark county election board has awarded the contract for printing 47,550 ballots for the election November 7, to the Alliance Review. Two bids were submitted: The Review Publishing Company, $343; the A. D. Hostetter Company, of Canton, $350.

After a meeting with the bank depositors at Smithville, Wednesday, H. R. Alcorn went to Toledo to see if his brother could get eighty-five per cent of the bank's indebtedness to settle with the depositors. He is to reply in a day or two.—Wooster Republican.

Dangerous counterfeit half dollars are in circulation. They are dated 1895 and are a good imitation of the genuine. The counterfeit is bright, the work is nicely executed, and the only manner in which it can be detected is the absence of the ringing sound when thrown upon a hard substance.

A class of thirty-seven was confirmed Friday morning at St. Paul's Catholic church, New Berlin, by Bishop Horstmann. He was assisted in the work by the Rev. Father Treiber, of Canton, the Rev. Father Hollmayer, of Akron, the Rev. Father Senner, of Louisville, and the Rev. Father Blinchart, of St. Paul's church.

At the annual meeting of the joint synod of Ohio of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Dayton, the following officers were elected: President, the Rev. M. R. Walter, Loudonville; vice president, the Rev. Shensley, Delaware; secretary, F. W. Almendinger, Canal Winchester; treasurer, the Rev. C. W. Bachman, Columbus.

Stephen Tragger was pleasantly surprised Friday night at his home in Thorne street, the occasion being his eighteenth birthday. Thirty-five young people were present. In a game of rinch prizes were won by Miss Alice Swihart and Lottie Boli. Prizes for high scores in progressive euchre were awarded to Miss Alice Warth and Edward Foster. Mr. Tragger was presented with a gold ring by the employees of the Eclipse store, where he is employed.

Deputy County Clerk Agler drew seventeen petit jurors Thursday morning. They are to report on Monday, October 23, at 1 o'clock, in common pleas court. The list is as follows: Philip Loew, Bethlehem township; Emory Howenstine, Pike township; Anton Schwertner, Canton; Hiram K. Grant, Canton; David S. Souers, Massillon; George Leeper, Perry township; S. M. Anderson, Canton; Charles Leifer, Massillon; J. S. Acker, Lake township; Jerome Muckley, Sandy township; L. Sollman, Canton; David Johns, Massillon; Andrew Harter, Plain township; T. K. Turnbull, Canton; Adam E. Feldbush, Canton; Leander Fording, Alliance; Stephen Shell, Ninisshillen township.

NAVAREE.
Navarre, Oct. 21.—Miss Myrtle McCormick, of Canal Fulton, and Miss Clara Burk, of Massillon, were guests of Miss Warwick Thursday evening.

Arlington Cordrey, of Chicago, and William Cordrey, of Canton, were in Navarre on Friday.

John Riecksecker and family, Henry Balser and family, and Marshal Kepingler and family are spending several days attending the Canal Dover fair.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

President Named Last Thursday in Month Since 1863.

The Independent has been asked many times whether Thanksgiving day this year would fall on November 23 or November 30, the question being raised because there are five Thursdays in the month and the general impression has been that the fourth Thursday in November was invariably the day named. The calendars have not helped matters, as some of them give one date and some the other. To settle the matter definitely The Independent sent a message to Governor Herrick Thursday morning. The answer came promptly. It read:

"Since 1863 the President has always named the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving day. Governor Herrick will name the same day as the President." Tod B. Galloway, Secretary to the Governor.

Public Sale.

The undersigned will sell at public sale on the J. P. Shilling farm, Stanwood, O., on Friday, Oct. 27, the following: 2 head of horses, 12 head cattle, 1 head of sheep, 5 head of hogs, all kinds of farm implements, hay by the ton and corn fodder by the bundle, corn and oats by the bushel and other articles too numerous to mention. Sale to commence at one o'clock. M. A. Wood.

FROST DID DAMAGE.

Fair Weather is Predicted for Sunday.

The first heavy frost of the season occurred Friday night and made the late pedestrian appreciate last winter's overcoat, if he was fortunate enough to be wearing one. Late garden truck was damaged. The sharp winds, that blew clouds of dust through the down town streets Friday afternoon, had died down by Saturday morning and the day was an ideal autumn one. Another frost is predicted for Saturday night, but Sunday is expected to be fair, with diminishing winds. A warm wave is bringing up the rear of the cold wave, which is passing from the Rocky mountains towards the Atlantic coast.

Too late to cure a cold after consumption has fastened its deadly grip on the lungs. Take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup while yet there is time.

Office of East Goshen Coal Co., New Philadelphia, O., March 21, 1903. The Shuler Pharmacy, Louisville, O. Gentlemen: After using a number of packages of your Gall Cure and noting results, I find that it is superior to any other that I have been obtaining or able to secure at any drug store in this city, in which there are a number of other gall cures for sale. Respectfully, W. N. EMPSFIELD, Supt.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or had effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, without free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

HE INDICTS THE GANG BOSSES.

A Sermon by the Rev. C. M. Roberts.

CRIMES AGAINST THE POOR.

The Former Rector of St. Timothy's Church in This City Preached a Remarkable Sermon Directed Against Corrupt Politics of Philadelphia.

"I indict them in the name of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, whose honor they have dragged in the dust. 'I indict them in the name of the city of Philadelphia, because it was the cradle of liberty.

"I indict them in the name of the working people, because they have despoiled them mercilessly, left them in poverty, and in degradation to suffer and to die, and have mocked at their misery.

"I appeal to the ballot box—I appeal to the ballot box and await the result, hoping that I may hear the voice of 500,000 saying guilty, guilty, guilty, as charged, and back of them the echo from a million women and children, crying guilty, guilty, guilty as charged!"

In the above striking indictment of the gang bosses, whom he charged with the looting of Philadelphia, the Rev. Cassius M. Roberts, assistant rector of the Protestant Episcopal church of the Savior, Thirty-eighth street, above Chestnut, Philadelphia, last Sunday night, concluded a remarkable sermon, in which he urged his congregation to vote the city party ticket as a righteous duty. Mr. Roberts was formerly rector of St. Timothy's church in this city, having left Massillon to go to Philadelphia. The report of his powerful sermon is published as follows in the Philadelphia North American:

Mr. Roberts began by saying that God did not intend that the kingdom of heaven should be established among the angels, but on earth. God has glory enough without the tribute of the average citizen; but the duty of a man is to help to make the world itself so that those living here may own their own souls.

"It is this right that we are to maintain here in Philadelphia—the right to own our own souls. And in the situation that confronts us I urge that there is only one side that a decent man can take. It is not a political question that we are to settle at the polls, but a simple question of right or wrong."

Beginning in this way, Mr. Roberts cited instance after instance from his own experience to show how the stealing of the money of the city has placed a frightful burden upon the poor, forcing them deeper into poverty by raising their rents, confronting them with typhoid because the money meant to build and finish the filters has been stuffed into the overgrown pockets of the grafters, and mulcting them on the right and on the left because the petty bosses stood hand and glove with corruptionists and let the corporations charge as they pleased.

"Well I remember," said the minister, in telling of one case, "a poor woman left to support herself with her own hands and obliged to find food and clothing for her four children besides. She came to me when three of the children were down with typhoid fever to tell me the fourth had been taken sick.

"For God's sake, come!" the woman said to me in her anguish, and I went with her.

"I stepped over to the one fancet the little cramped rooms afforded and turned on the water. It came forth a thick, murky stream.

"Why don't you boil the water?" I asked the woman.

"Because," she answered, 'I have to go away washing early in the morning, and must leave the children here to take care of themselves.'

"Think of that case, and of the thousands others like it, and then think of the men who have stolen the money that was intended to give that woman and her poor children the pure, healthful water that is their right—as much their right as it is our right to own our own souls."

Mr. Roberts made the point that when the criminal bosses of the gang sold the city's bonds, and raised the city's taxes, placing in their own pockets the money intended to make the lot of the poor less burdensome, the money to give school room to the children of the poor, it was a blow at those who could not help themselves.

"It was a blow at the poor and not at the rich," said the clergyman. "When the water was bad, the rich did not suffer. They could get fresh sparkling water from the springs, but you people had to put up with the stuff that came out of the faucets. When the taxes were raised, owing to the thievery in contracts and the looting of the city's treasury, it was not the rich who suffered—it was you poor men and women who bore the brunt of it all.

"True, the rich men paid the taxes, but they paid the taxes with the money they got out of you people by raising the rents.

"One poor woman I know was forced to support a family on $9 a week. I saw her cooking the meal for the family. 'How much does that gas cost you?' I asked. 'Three dollars every three months,' she answered. It might have cost that woman more than that, and the reason it didn't was because they didn't have anything more to cook.

"How can any thinking man, any honest man, question how to vote, when he thinks that the men who have been making themselves rich at the expense of such as these had the audacity even to try to fasten that frightful price for fuel on the poor of this city forever?"

No demonstration was made by the congregation during the Rev. Mr. Roberts' sermon, but his remarks were followed throughout with the most tense interest.

SPEAKERS FOR THE BIG RALLY

Hon. J. J. Sullivan and Hon. Wade H. Ellis to Come.

ANNOUNCEMENT ON THURSDAY.

Local Members of the County Executive Committee Have Received Word from Chairman McCulloch—Speaking in the Armory.

Local members of the Republican executive committee received word from Chairman Ross C. McCulloch, at Canton, Thursday afternoon, that the speakers' bureau at Columbus had assigned the Hon. J. J. Sullivan, of Cleveland, and the Hon. Wade H. Ellis, attorney general of Ohio, to speak in Massillon Wednesday evening, November 1.

The Armory will be secured for the meeting and a big rally will be the chief event of the campaign in the city. The McKinley clubs of Canton and Alliance will join the Massillon McKinley club and a parade will precede the Armory meeting. Colonel Sullivan is one of the foremost speakers in the state on economic questions and his services have been in constant demand. Massillon should feel gratified that he is to give an address here. Attorney General Ellis has been recognized as one of the leading attorneys in the state for several years and whatever he may say will be of especial interest in these days of business combinations, municipal difficulties and other important events.

This will probably be the only big meeting in the city during the campaign and those at the head of it are planning that the meeting shall be as auspicious as those of former years have been.

EXPENSES OF PRISONERS.

Statistics Compiled by Secretary of State.

Columbus, Oct. 21.—There were 1,700 persons confined in the county jails of the state during the fiscal year just ended, according to statistics compiled in the office of the secretary of state. There were 14,896 white prisoners and 2,194 colored. Of these 1,095 were wholly illiterate. Nearly 14,000 were born in the United States. There were 1,847 females. It cost the eighty-eight counties almost $150,000 to board these prisoners in the jails, the average daily per capita cost being sixty cents.

Suicide is on the decrease in Ohio. Statistics show that during the past year 278 men and 78 women killed themselves, while the year before 536 men and 14 women took their lives.

There were 2,599 inquests held during the year, while for 1904 there were 4,344.

HASKINS WILL RESIGN.

Has Been President of Ohio Miners for Several Years.

Coshocton, O., Oct. 2.—William H. Haskins, of Coshocton, for several years president of the Ohio branch of the United Mine Workers, announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election at the state meeting next January, but that he will retire from active work in the organization. He declines to discuss the future.
